Hello Ada,

I hope your chemistry department meeting on Tuesday went well.

I understand you are helping to organise the upcoming staff development programme.

I have prepared an updated staff attendance document for you. Please open the attached file and sign in with your college email details to access it.

I need this completed before the end of the day so I can submit the final report tomorrow.

Thank you for your assistance.

Best regards,
Department Coordinator

RED-FLAG CALLOUTS

01 · PERSONAL DETAIL
The recipient's fictional name, department and meeting reference make the email feel familiar. Personal details do not prove the sender is genuine.

02 · SENDER ADDRESS
The address uses greenfield-staff.invalid, which is not a verified institutional domain.

03 · UNEXPECTED ATTACHMENT
The recipient was not expecting an attendance document. Unexpected files need verification.

04 · CREDENTIAL HARVESTING
The file asks the recipient to sign in with college credentials. Never enter a password into an unexpected document.

05 · DEADLINE PRESSURE
The end-of-day deadline encourages the recipient to skip normal checks.

WHAT TO DO Do not open the attachment or enter credentials. Confirm the request with the coordinator through a known, separate communication channel.

All names, addresses, institutions, amounts and links in this sample are fictional. The .invalid domain is reserved for invalid examples. No real person or organisation was contacted or targeted. Do not click or visit the example links.
